USE OF DEVICES & INTERNET AT ST MARY'S COLLEGE

As BYOD (Bring Your Own Device) is being implemented at St Mary's College it is vitally important that we address the safety issues which are involved.

Currently devices that provide internet access are prevalent throughout the school in the form of cellphones, tablets, laptops and desktop computers. In the last few years these devices have grown in number which has prompted the production of a standalone Anti-bullying/Cyber Safety Policy by the Board of Directors.

The rationale for the cyber safety policy states:

St Mary's College seeks and affirms each person's worth, dignity and vocation. Bullying/ Cyberbullying (including harassment) strikes at the basis of these. The college is committed to ensuring that all staff and students are able to work and learn in an environment free from bullying/cyberbullying or the consequences thereof. At this point we need to now remind ourselves of the core Mercy values which underpin our standing as a Catholic College for girls in the Mercy tradition. The values are Faith, Respect, Excellence, Justice and Service.

From these values comes our vision as we believe that:

Students are at the centre of the learning process

High quality learning requires high quality teaching

All students should have the opportunity to achieve Excellence

A wide range of learning opportunities should be provided which will enhance student connection, involvement learning and achievement

(See St Mary's College Charter 2015)

Over the next few years the introduction of BYOD is well aligned and sits beside our vision for St Mary's College. It is important that the school provides a safe physical and emotional environment. Currently all students' sign an Internet Agreement acknowledging that their use of the internet is for school purposes only. With BYOD and in keeping in line with the schools new Cyber Safety Policy a new student agreement will target in particular the use of the device that is being used for learning.

SCHOOL QUALITY ASSURANCE

St Mary's College has an excellent review including the process for international students which can be found at the link below:

CODE OF PRACTICE AND RESOLVING GRIEVANCES OR COMPLAINTS

When a student comes to New Zealand to study as an international student, education providers have a responsibility to ensure that they are well informed, safe and properly cared for.

In New Zealand this is called 'pastoral care' and to support this, the New Zealand government has developed the Education (Pastoral Care of International Students) Code of Practice 2016.

From 1 July 2016 there has been significant changes to the Code of Practice and a new dispute resolution scheme has been introduced. Both these documents regulate the care and support of your daughter or student you are representing whilst she is studying at St Mary's College.

The Education (Pastoral Care of International Students) Code of Practice 1 July 2016 (which replaces the existing Code of Practice)

<http://www.nzqa.govt.nz/studying-in-new-zealand/coming-to-study-in-new-zealand/international-student-care/>

And

A new International Student Contract Dispute Resolution Scheme (DRS) which has been established to resolve contractual and financial disputes between international students and education providers.

<http://www.nzqa.govt.nz/about-us/make-a-complaint/>

Please be assured that St Mary's College upholds and supports the Code of Practice, however, if for any reason you have concerns about your daughter's/student's treatment by the school or by one of the school's agent's your first step is to talk to the school's International Director, Mrs Sue King, (sking@stmaryak.school.nz) and if your concerns are not resolved by the school you can contact the New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA), who will process your complaint through the DRS scheme. The website address is above or, for more information on the complaint process, you can contact NZQA on 0800 697 296.

It is the Agent's responsibility to obtain a copy of the Code of Practice (Code) and the Dispute Resolution Scheme (DRS) and understand it.

VISA/IMMIGRATION

Full details of immigration requirements, advice on rights to employment in New Zealand while studying, and reporting requirements are available from Immigration New Zealand, and can be viewed on their website at <https://www.immigration.govt.nz/new-zealand-visas>

A student visa (or a limited visa granted for the purpose of study) is required for international students coming to New Zealand to study for more than three months. Study must be the main purpose of the visit.

A student visa (or a limited visa granted for the purpose of study) is subject to certain conditions and any breaches must be reported to Immigration New Zealand.

Visa conditions can include, but are not limited to:

- having sufficient funds for maintenance while in New Zealand
- attending the course at all times unless there are genuine reasons for any absences, and making satisfactory academic progress
- studying at the place of study specified on the student visa
- having acceptable insurance for the duration of the student visa
- working no more than the hours specified on the student visa (if the students are in Years 12 and 13 and have sought a variation of conditions with permission of the school)
- living with a parent or legal guardian if required.

For students whose study period is less than three months, they may enter under a visitor's visa.

Guardian/Visitor Visa Conditions

If a parent is accompanying a student for the sole purpose of education in New Zealand their visa must state the name of the dependent that they are responsible for while living in New Zealand and the parent must live with the student. Schools need to complete routine checks to ensure that parents are living with the student and are still in New Zealand. Should a school find that a parent or legal guardian has returned to their home country they need to inform Immigration New Zealand.

Parents on visitor/guardian visas may apply for a variation to the conditions of their visa if they wish to work while living in New Zealand. Parents are usually required to have a contract with an employer to enable them to apply for a variation of conditions to their visa.

The variation of conditions is mainly applied for onshore in New Zealand once the parent has a job.

Immigration agents

Schools cannot give immigration 'advice'. Only licensed immigration agents may give advice about immigration requirements. Full details can be found at the Immigration Adviser Authority's website at <http://www.iaa.govt.nz>

Immigration requirements and questions relating to a student's immigration status rest with Immigration New Zealand. Please refer to Immigration New Zealand's website for details: <https://www.immigration.govt.nz/new-zealand-visas/options/study>

HEALTH AND SAFETY

More information can be obtained in the Student's Orientation or Parent & Student Information Handbook.

CATHOLIC CHARACTER

St Mary's College is a Catholic school based on Christian values. All students study about this in Religious Education (RE), which is compulsory, and will hear a lot about being in a "Mercy" school.

PRIVACY ACT 1993

We acknowledge that the personal information we have supplied on the enrolment form is being collected to assist the College in assessing this application for enrolment, and if successful, providing pastoral care and education for our child. The College is authorised to pass this information to other schools, educational or governmental authorities when required for the legitimate use of those authorities. Similarly, the College is authorised to obtain whatever personal information it legitimately requires regarding the student from the student's present or previous school/s.

FEE PROTECTION POLICY

BACKGROUND

The Fee Protection Policy is adopted by the College to give assurance to International Fee Paying Students that the fees that they have been paid will be available to them for refund in the unlikely event that the College becomes insolvent or is suspended or removed as a signatory to the Code of Practice. In either of these events, International Students would have a proportion of their fees refunded to them as they would have to enrol at another school to complete the course. It should be noted that the College has been operating effectively for over one hundred and fifty years and has never defaulted on any payment or been overdrawn or in deficit.

FEE PROTECTION PROCEDURE

In accordance with 7.2.4 of the Code of Practice the College has established a unique bank account into which all International Student tuition fees are paid. This account, at the Bank of New Zealand, Ponsonby, is not connected to any of the College accounts. The signatories to the account are the Principal, the Deputy Principal, the Executive Officer and a member of the Board of Trustees.

Withdrawals from the account are made progressively throughout the year to meet the various operating expenses incurred in the teaching of the International students. The balance in the account is adequate to meet the amount needed to refund students at any point in the year.

BOT Approved
